DAMANHUR
PAKARII

SUMMARY:

This meeting will be a transformative two-week experience, bringing together in Damanhur Pakarii 30 to 40 young people between 18 and 35 years old from indigenous, spiritual, ecological, social, artistic and community movements, who share the vision of co-creating a more just, conscious, resilient world in harmony with Mother Earth.

This space seeks to strengthen the global youth leadership network, integrating ancestral, permaculture and community knowledge, in a collective process of learning, spirituality and concrete action towards the social, ecological and cultural regeneration of their territories.

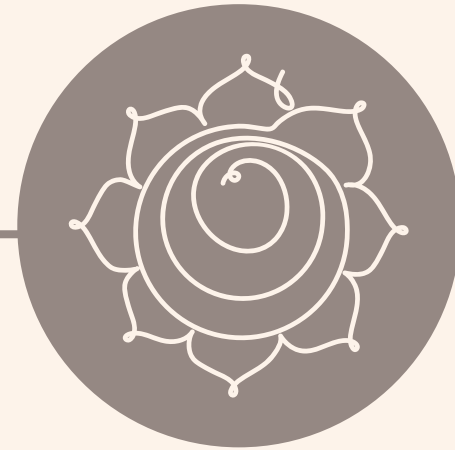

CENTRAL PURPOSE

Bringing together young people who hear the inner and ancestral call to live a life with purpose, without harming other beings, and who dream of a world that is:

More just, conscious and collaborative

Connected to the spiritual and the ancestral

In harmony with the Earth and human communities

A place where everyone can flourish with dignity, joy, and responsibility

THEORY OF CHANGE

Central problem:

Conscious, spiritual, and transformative youth lack spaces for global articulation to strengthen their vision, share strategies, and co-create actions with territorial impact, especially in connection with ancestral knowledge and indigenous leadership.

Key assumptions:

- Young people have a central role in the systemic transformation towards regenerative societies.
- Spirituality, connection with nature, and community action can coexist as a driving force for change.
- Intergenerational dialogue with ancestral wisdom strengthens ethical and territorial leadership.

CROSS-CUTTING THEMES OF THE MEETING

- Spirituality and ancestral worldview
- Ecological and social regeneration
- Collective and community leadership
- Living education and cultural transformation
- Youth as a creative and visionary force

WEEK 1

Certified mini-EDE training by Gaia Education

During the first week, the young people will undergo intensive training in sustainability, based on the Gaia Education model and its four-pillar curriculum:

Social: tools for collaboration, conscious leadership, community governance, and conflict resolution.

Ecological: permaculture, bioconstruction, agroecology, sustainable settlement design.

Economic: solidarity economies, regenerative entrepreneurship, local exchange systems.

Worldview: spiritual connection, ancestral worldview, healing, life purpose and service.

This international certification provides practical tools for young people to start or strengthen projects in their territories.

WEEK 2

Strengthening the Global Network of Regenerative Youth

Global Vision • Territorial Projects • Strategic Alliances

The second week will be a more open and creative space, designed as a future laboratory for:

- Strengthening the global network of youth connected with regeneration and spirituality
- Designing community projects and concrete territorial actions, from living schools, ecovillages, social enterprises, to collective rituals and awareness campaigns
- Listen to indigenous wise men and young spiritual leaders, sons and daughters of shamans, grandfathers and grandmothers, who bring the message of their native peoples
- Create strategies for the next 5 to 10 years, including meeting schedules, digital platforms, support processes, visibility campaigns, etc.
- Activate circles of art, music, communication, and healing as living ways to share messages and expand vision

EXPECTED RESULTS

- Training 30 to 40 young people as agents of regenerative change
- Co-creation of at least 5 community projects
- Alliances between youth networks, ecovillages, indigenous communities and social movements
- Active and connected Global Network of Regenerative Youth
- Publication of a “Global Youth Charter for Regeneration”, as a collective manifesto of the meeting
- Proposal for regional replications of the meeting every 2 years

FINANCING AND ACCESSIBILITY

Creation of collective savings funds by region
(CASA Latina, GEN Europe, Damanhur...)

International crowdfunding campaigns

Application for funding for youth, ancestral knowledge and climate change

Full scholarships for indigenous youth, knowledge holders, and key facilitators

Transparency and self-management as principles of economic care

XIU CASTELLANOS
16 YEARS OLD

Today, more than ever, the world needs young people who dream, who sing, who listen, who design, who sow seeds. Young people who are not afraid to walk with deep roots and open wings.

This gathering in Damanhur, Peru, is not just an event. It is a living flame, a cosmic seed that calls us to remember who we are: Guardians of life, weavers of communities, bearers of visions.

We come from many lands, languages, and traditions, but the heart that moves us beats on the same frequency: Love for the Earth. Respect for Life. Trust in the Future.

We come together to dream together. But also to act together. So that when we return to our territories, we bring back more than just ideas: we bring back projects, alliances, tools, stories, and inner fire. Because there isn't just one path. There are a thousand paths that open up when we walk together.

You are invited to be a part of it. To bring your vision. To listen to the voice of your ancestors. To create a community with purpose.

ROOTS AND WINGS 2027 It's more than a meeting.
It is a collective step towards the Earth that our hearts already know.

ROOTS AND WINGS 2027

TODAY WE INVITE YOU TO JOIN THIS WONDERFUL EXPERIENCE

It's more than just a meeting.

It is a collective step towards the Earth that our hearts already know.
